

An architectural rendering of a sports complex. The central feature is a large green football pitch with white markings, enclosed by a high, grey metal fence. To the right of the pitch is a red running track. In the background, a modern stadium building with a curved, dark roof and large glass windows is visible. The foreground shows a paved area and a small, white, tent-like structure on the left. The overall style is a clean, line-art architectural drawing with selective color.

[illegible]